This appeal is used to request a dependency override for federal financial aid. It is used after you have filed your FAFSA and indicated that you have special circumstances which prevent you from providing parental information.

The Federal Student Aid Program determines a student’s status as dependent or independent by the answers the student provides on the eight questions listed in Step 3 of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Students are classified as dependent or independent because federal student aid programs are based on the principle that students (and their parents or spouse) are considered the primary source of support for postsecondary education. The Dependency Override process is used to address on a case by case basis a student who claims to be independent but does not meet the federal criteria. The student must demonstrate a unique and extenuating circumstance.

The following provides information and explains the procedure used to determine a student’s eligibility for a “Dependency Override.” A Financial Aid Administrator will review the student’s appeal by examining the supporting documentation provided by the student and will either approve or deny the students request and notify the student in writing. The decision is final and cannot be appealed to the U.S. Department of Education.

THE FOLLOWING IS NOT CONSIDERED A UNIQUE AND EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCE
- Self-sufficiency of the student
- Parent’s unwillingness to complete the parent section of the FAFSA
- Parents refuse to contribute to the student’s education
- Not residing at the parent’s residence
- Not being claimed as a dependent on your parent’s tax return
- Student’s desire for grants instead of loans

CIRCUMSTANCES GIVEN CONSIDERATION WHERE PARENTAL SUPPORT HAS BEEN TERMINATED
- Documented abandonment
- Parental drug abuse
- Parental mental incapacity
- Physical or emotional abuse
- Severe estrangement from parents
- Parental Incarceration
