

Student Retention and Completion

The following chart identifies the percentage of degree-seeking students who attended a fall term and returned the following fall term.

Northwest State Community College awards associate degrees, less than One-year certificates, one-year certificates. Certificates that are less than 30 credit hours are considered less than one-year while those with 30 credits or more are considered a one-year certificate.

Many students can start their degree path at Northwest State Community College and then transfer to another institution. The following chart provides a summary of the percentage of degree-seeking students who transfer with a degree completed at NSCC or after completing a minimum of 12 credit hours of coursework at NSCC.

